

The Media Column - 2

Sunday Telegraph, 1 May 2005

Clarence House says that the ST article 'Camilla hurt by a thousand poison pens' is untrue. Only 4 per cent of over 25,000 letters were unsupportive.

Sunday Telegraph, 1 May 2005

Euan Blair says the ST statement that Luciana Berger is his girlfriend is untrue. 'Luciana Berger is not, and never has been, my girlfriend', says he.

Sunday Telegraph, 1 May 2005

Peter Horrocks, BBC Head of Current affairs, contradicts the ST report 'Tory fury as BBC sends hecklers to bait Howard'. He says: 'the slogans you attribute to the hecklers . . . are entirely fictitious'.

Sunday Telegraph, 1 May 2005

Paul Woolwich says last week's ST report that he quit Channel Four's Hard News after producers wanted it to be less confrontational is false.