

Letter in The Observer, Review

The beauty of Bewick writ large

Small wonders

Congratulations to Laura Cumming (26 April 2009). Her skilful writing beautifully matches Thomas Bewick's unique miniaturist tale-pieces, sketched in what she sympathetically calls 'his own little world of thought . . . corners of England, customs of the English, shot through with time, tide, gravity and wit . . .'

Francis Bennion

Observer Review, 3 May 2009.

